

The LUCID

FAQS

What is provided in the room?

The central focus of the room will be the bespoke audio object that will present Kelsey Lu's work. You'll also find the usual hotel suspects like bed, closet, desk and ensuite bathroom, in untouched 1970s hotel styling. Shampoo and conditioner from Bondi Wash will be available for use.

Does the room have air-conditioning?

Yes.

Does the room have wi-fi?

Yes, details at Concierge check-in booth.

How loud will the music be?

Volume will be determined by the artist in line with the sonic journey.

Am I able to turn off the music?

No, the work will run continuously for the 8-hour duration.

Am I able to turn off the window lights?

The window lights will turn off automatically at 12.30pm.

My friends are doing this experience too. Can we spend time in each other's rooms?

Within reason, yes, but all guests must have an allocated room. We ask you to respect other patrons and keep noise to a minimum during the experience.

Is everyone staying at the hotel part of The Lucid experience?

Yes, Sydney Festival is taking over the whole dang mushroom for January!

Is there wheelchair access?

Unfortunately the CTA hotel rooms are not accessible. As such we have organised a wheelchair accessible session at an alternate location. Call 02 8248 6500 or email access@sydneyfestival.org.au to book.

Is there a concierge available?

Yes, Sydney Festival staff will be onsite all night in the check-in booth or in Room 415. Alternatively, if you can't leave the room or can't find our staff member, please call the Night Manager on 0497 812 051. We're happy to help any time of the night.

What time is checkout?

9am

Is breakfast provided and what is included?

A continental breakfast box will be provided before check-out, served in the CTA's iconic 1970s bistro on Level 2, where you'll also find coffee and tea facilities. Breakfast concludes at 9am, please notify ticketing@sydneyfestival.org.au in advance of your visit if you have dietary requirements.

Can I leave my room during the experience?

Yes, Level 2 will be open throughout the evening for any restless guests. Tea facilities will be available here to help you wind down, and our staff will be around during the night if you need anything or have questions.

Can I access downstairs before or during the experience?

On all nights the Dreamers Lounge Bar on Level 2 will be open especially for The Lucid guests to unwind at any time during your stay.

Can I record my experience in the room?

Selfies and such for your personal account or records - no worries. Professional recording - no go.

Can I bring my pet or guide dog?

No pets, assistance animals are of course welcome.
